NO. 947A TIERED FOUNTAIN

Cast Stone

42", 60", 84" Bowls

Any finial of proportionate size may be used. Pool not included.

No. 947 is a bowl and pedestal type fountain. The 947 series is the most rugged of all the cast stone fountains. It has many features which make it particularly desirable.

It is very easily assembled in the field, it is very strong and it is absolutely frost-proof. Freezing will not hurt this fountain. Just shut it off in the winter, drain it and let the snow and ice accumulate. The bowls are available from 18" to 84" diameter. This fountain comes equipped with a metal armature which uses recirculated water.

NO. 947 FOUNTAIN BOWLS & PEDESTALS

URN FOUNTAINS

On the following pages you will see a series of sketches of fountains using urns. These urns can be used in any fountain. The urn could be on a tall pedestal in the center of a fountain or down low in a pool. Urns make beautiful fountains. The water control is in the base. What we have shown you is the minimum conditions; the smallest possible pool and with the urn kept low. The idea of an urn fountain is much more beautiful if the urn is placed higher and the pool larger. You can incorporate your own ideas.

INSTALLATION OF A LEAD WALL FOUNTAIN

1. Install plastic cord seal into 1/2" threaded fitting.
2. Cut plug off of electric wire to pump and thread through the plastic cord seal. Leave just enough electric cord in fountain to conveniently place the pump and also to move it for cleaning. Tighten the cord seal just enough to seal it against the cord.
3. Make a paper template of the back of the backplate including the bolt holes and piping connections. Use this to mark the wall where the fountain is to be placed. Be sure that there is structure in the wall to mount the fountain to. It is up to you to determine that the structure is adequate to carry the load.
4. Set yourself up so that you can simultaneously make the electric and water connections. It would be ideal to be able to make the electrical connection on the other side of the wall so that if the pump ever dies you will be able to replace it without removing the fountain from the wall. Then mount the fountain to the wall using only the screws provided. Note: it is more important to level the shell or bowl than it is to level the back of the fountain. With lead there is a certain amount of adjustment you can do to the bowl after installation but you want to start as level as possible.
5. Assemble the pump in the bowl using the tubing, etc. provided. Fill with water.
6. Adjust the water flow.
7. Stand back and look at the fountain. Look at the bowl. If it is lead and sagging or misshapen in any way, use a rubber mallet to carefully bump it the way you want it to go. Don't get overly ambitious here! You could end up with more problems than you want.
8. Install the rosettes on the mounting screws. Place the cover over the pump.
9. Maintenance: Clean with soft cloth and, at the most, a mild non-abrasive cleanser. Wax with either a paste wax or Pledge (or equal). If the pump dies you may have to remove the fountain from the wall (see 4 above) to replace it because of the electric supply. So keep these instructions for the future.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR TIERED FOUNTAINS WITH CURBING

1. PRECAUTIONS

Unpack all boxes carefully. Smaller fountain components may be packed separately within a larger container, especially copper armature. These are made to fit your fountain exclusively and are hard for us to duplicate off site. Do not discard packaging materials until all items on packing list are accounted for. While removing fountain components from packaging be attentive of fragile corners and edges. Do not let cast stone come in contact with grease, oils, coffee, etc.

2. TOOLS REQUIRED

A mason and a helper will be required. For heavy components a fork lift or crane as necessary is handy. A 4 1/2" grinder with masonry wheel, a selection of trowels, typical mason tools as well as sandpaper, very coarse steel wool and a 4' level, throw away brushes, soldering wire, flux and torch and non-shrink grout. Plastic shims are provided for raising pool curbing and leveling fountain components. You can also make your own wedges following instructions under pool curbing. Finishing mix is provided to cover the grouted joints, in order to assure an even color throughout.

3. ASSEMBLY REQUIREMENTS

Level each piece individually before continuing to next component. Curbing pieces should be raised off floor by 1/2" (using shims provided or your own wedges) and placed 1/2" from adjoining piece. Fountain components should be separated 3/8" minimum to allow room for grouting but not more than 3/4". For heavy components use the plastic shims provided and make sure they are "in column" as you build the fountain, especially below and above the pumpcase.

The best way to level fountain bowls is to fill with water and look for an even drip all around. For most of our products this is the only recommended way. While assembling, pay close attention to the fountain as a whole before continuing to the next level. Plumbing should be centered and any design elements should be lined up from bowl to bowl and pedestal to pedestal.

Copper and Bronze armature (piping) come partially assembled for the ease of installation; they must be soldered on site. The pipe and copper sizes used are normally available materials from any plumbing supply house. Fountain components are grouted together only after completing the building of the fountain.

4. SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

- Set pumpcase, please note that the pumpcase door remains free - Do not grout!
- Set bottom pedestal, making sure it is level and steady.
- Set bottom bowl, check level with water.
- Attach bronze vertical pipes to top and bottom of largest bronze and copper armature. (This assembly will connect directly to the pump and next armature.) Insert this assembly through the bowl, pedestal and pumpcase, making sure that the copper arms fall into the slots in the bowl island and the top bronze pipe protrudes above bowl. Solder copper arms to bronze cross.
- Place next pedestal and bowl over protruding bronze pipe.
- Remove copper arms from bronze cross that corresponds to next bowl, screw bronze cross to protruding bronze pipe, making sure that the copper arms will connect through the slots in bowl island. Solder copper arms in place.
- Screw bronze vertical pipe to armature. Place next pedestal and bowl over protruding pipe.
- Set the rest of the bowls and pedestals in the same manner as above, making sure to solder all parts securely.
- Fountain finial may sit upon an adapter, which is designed to cover the copper armature in top bowl. Finial usually has a female adapter in the bottom, the top armature and the finial will connect with a pipe nipple.
